Configuresoft CSO to Serve as Panelist at Virtualization Congress 2009

Virtualization Security Expert Dave Shackelford to Discuss New Concerns and New Tools for Securing Virtual Environments

Colorado Springs, CO — May 6, 2009 — Configuresoft, Inc., a leading provider of enterprise server configuration management solutions for physical and virtual environments, today announced the following special appearance by Configuresoft virtualization technology expert:

WHO: Dave Shackelford, Chief Security Officer, Configuresoft

WHAT: Panelist at Virtualization Congress 2009
Session Title: “Securing the Virtual Data Center \(on Earth and on Clouds\)”
Other panelists include Christofer Hoff, Chief Security Architect with Unisys; Michael Berman, CTO with Catbird; moderator is Alessandro Perilli, founder of virtualization.info.

WHEN: 5:00 p.m. PDT, Wednesday, May 6

WHERE: Virtualization Congress 2009 hosted at Citrix Synergy 2009
MGM Grand, Las Vegas, NV

WHY: “Virtualization has opened doors to incredible efficiency, agility and cost savings for the enterprise IT environment,” Shackelford said. “But, it may also open the door for added security risks without the kind of advanced planning and proper tools in place to ensure a more secure posture and assess and maintain compliance across both virtual and physical assets. In this session, we will explore the risks, the options and the best practices for effectively managing the implementation of coupled environments.”
